

To the Louisiana Tech Class of 2020

Congratulations graduates! You came to this campus a few years ago as the most academically prepared freshman class in the history of Louisiana Tech University, and you are completing your studies here and setting new standards of excellence. Your graduation rate is significantly higher than any other class in Tech's history, your time to degree completion is the lowest in the State of Louisiana, and in any other measure of academic achievement, your class has shined the brightest.

Perhaps more importantly, you have been a class of inspired leadership. You've shown great care for our University and your colleagues and a heart for service. These are all values that give us confidence that you will bring a sense of hope and integrity in your chosen professions, your communities, and society in the future.

Your demonstration of our Louisiana Tech values has been most evident during the past year as our campus has faced two of the most devastating crises in Louisiana Tech's history – the April 2019 tornado and the COVID-19 pandemic. You have exhibited leadership in helping our institution navigate through these challenging days – demonstrating commitment to the restoration of our campus; demonstrating respect for your fellow students, faculty, and staff; demonstrating confidence in our academic mission; and demonstrating loyalty to your alma mater.

These experiences have shaped you to be resilient and confident leaders, and you have also had opportunities to develop powerful friendships that will last a lifetime. You have spent countless hours with friends in campus organizations, student activities, study halls, laboratories, and studios. You even found a little time for the library and a party or two.

During these past few months, I have greatly missed our opportunities to be together face to face, to watch you play on our athletics and intramural fields, to mingle together in the Quad and on Centennial Plaza, and to have midnight breakfast together in the Tonk. But I was grateful that we found ways to connect in Zoom Rooms for classes, conversations, hoodings, pinnings, and even a bit of karaoke during your last days as students.

My sincere congratulations to each of you on this significant accomplishment. I join your Louisiana Tech Family in extending to you every good wish for your future endeavors. We all have confidence that your education has prepared you well; your degree will provide untold opportunities for you professionally and in every other facet of your life. The guiding principles that serve as our foundation, the Tenets of Tech, will be invaluable if you continue to make them a part of who you are.

Ever Loyal Be,
